1. What stood out to you about this passage this week? Anything that you might not have noticed before?
2. Do you ever feel like scripture is attempting to answer questions you haven't asked? Why do you think that is? How should we attempt to approach scriptures like that?
3. What do you think it means to be "in slavery to the fear of death?" What does that look like in our society? In your own life?
4. How can we take heart in Jesus being the pioneer in our triumph over the grave? How can we daily live as people who are practically no longer held captive by the fear of death? What does your life look like if freedom from death is a reality for you?
